

From the Man
About Town

As you will look in the day directory soon—look and under the G's this name: M. Goodman, 369 Bulette street, business tools and bags." But probably you can over it, unconcerned, for you are not acquainted with the businesses. That has surely started that goes mad. Read on, and hereafter, when you meet Mr. Goodman, tell not to pass the shooting word.

A few days ago increasing business made M. Goodman bold so he invested in a Ford truck. It was a nice, shiny truck and a rattling good car. He bought it from Bunnell's Auto Sales Co., Mr. Goodman had no garage of his own so he let the truck at the Oakley garage, corner Oakley Avenue and Logan street.

Amusing garage hands expressed their approval of the truck when it was driven in. "Sure I bought it off Bunnell. Ain't she a pipper, boy?" "We boys take good care of her," and with those solicitous words Mr. Goodman walked out of the garage and never again saw his truck.

The next day he went to Chicago. That evening there was a phone call received at the Oakley garage. "Hello this is 714. Yes, Oakley garage. Truck here belonging to Mr. Goodman? Yes, we have it. It needs some adjustments. Certainly, sir. Send right over for it. Goodbye."

A few minutes later a man entered the garage. The truck was turned over to him after he had identified himself. M. Goodman returned the next day from Chicago. He rushed to the garage. He had a premonition that something was wrong and what else could it be but the new truck.

"My truck—where is she?" he gasped as he fluttered into the garage. "Why, gone," nonchalantly replied an attendant.

"Gone? Who got it—why—where—when—how? Oh, such news! Tell me something, quick!" yelled the agitated M. Goodman.

"That's all right," said the garage man, "don't get excited. Come in here in the office and call Hammond 620. You'll find your car there all right."

Goodman called the number. He got no satisfaction. "Let me talk to Mr. Bunnell, quick, please," he almost screamed.

J. N. Bunnell, owner of Bunnell's Auto Sales Co., got on the phone. "Haven't got your car, Mr. Goodman," he said. "So I never sent a man over for it. Somebody has copped your car, I guess. Wait there'll be right over."

But search was unavailing. The car was gone. Bunnell didn't send for anyone to take it, but it was gone.

"Can you bear it?" said Bunnell.

"Whaddaya know about that?" said the garage man.

Goodman said nothing.

NEW BEVERAGES ADDED TO LIST

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Blackberry cordial and wild cherry wine were today added by the Bureau of Internal Revenue to the list of intoxicating liquors and may be sold by druggists in retail quantities of less than five gallons only to persons who have obtained permits to purchase intoxicating liquors.

Instructions were issued to federal prohibition directors today detailing alcohol which are held to be fit for beverage purposes and are therefore regarded as intoxicating and subject to the prohibition regulations.

Elixir of licorice came under the Bureau's ban along with the elixir of bitter orange. Compound spirits of juniper and myrrh were ruled intoxicating as well as compound tincture of lavender and a number of other pharmaceutical preparations.

New Hair Growth After BALDNESS

On legal affidavit, John Hart Brittain, business man, certified to this: "My head at the top and back was absolutely bald. The scalp was raw. An old Indian said he thought my hair would grow again, and there was so much of my hair now, a new growth of soft, strong, lustrous hair." Pictures shown here are from my photographs." Mr. Brittain certified further:

INDIAN'S SECRET OF HAIR GROWTH

"At a time when I had become disengaged from various hair losses, especially from the scalp, I was advised by the Cherokee Indian 'medicine man' who had an idea that a secret would be associated with growing my hair. Although I had but little faith in such a claim, I nevertheless followed his directions and kept expression my state of mind daily.

Obviously, the hair would not respond to such treatment, but I nevertheless followed the directions of the mysterious medicine man. I had but little faith in such a claim, but I nevertheless followed his directions and kept expression my state of mind daily.

After 8 weeks, my hair began to fall out until my scalp in spots was almost entirely bald. I had been using the best hair tonic I could find, and was disappointed, but at last I gave up. Now, however, the hair is growing again, and the bald spots are being covered now. I am very pleased with the results, and am ready about three inches." G. W. Mitchell reports: "I had been using KOTALKO for over six months, growing away. I used KOTALKO, Mrs. Maxine Maxwell reports. The whole head is now covered with hair again."

KOTALKO is wonderful for women's hair.

It has been proved in very many cases that hair tonic did not penetrate the hair, but did not through dandruff. This is the reason why KOTALKO is so effective.

A. D. Otto reports: "About 8 years ago my hair began to fall out until my scalp in spots was almost entirely bald. I had been using the best hair tonic I could find, and was disappointed, but at last I gave up. Now, however, the hair is growing again, and the bald spots are being covered now. Perfection's Price In Tire Building

A tire-maker's first problem is to decide how much he can give for the money. This, and every other question in tire building, depends upon policies.

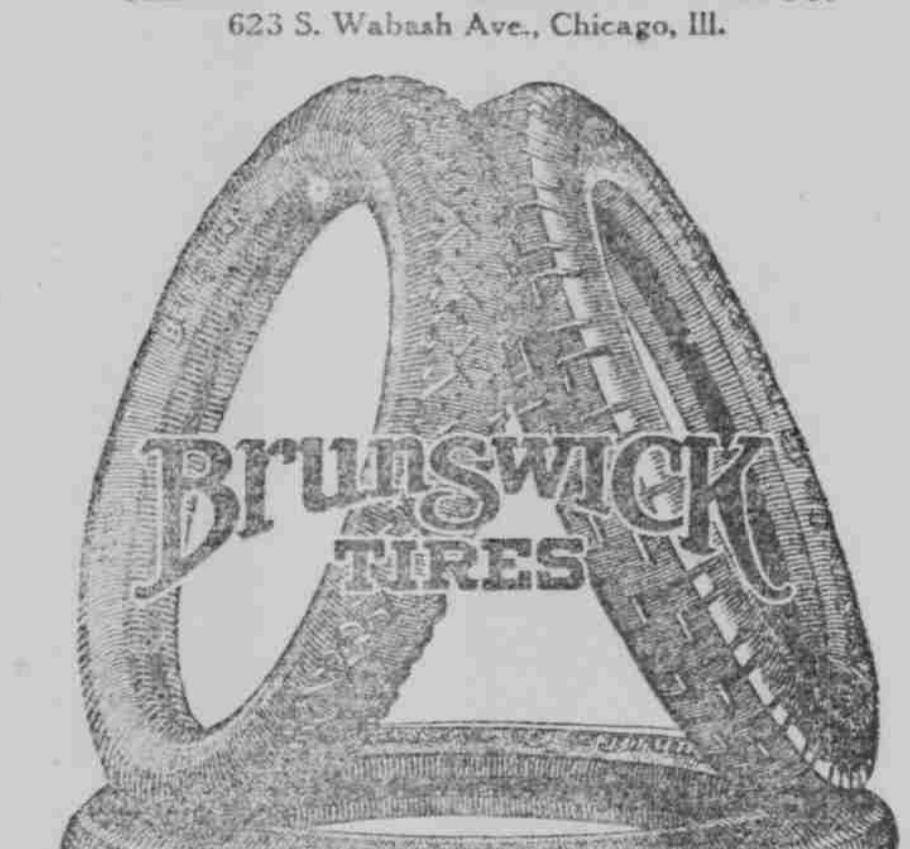

A super-tire, such as the Brunswick, can be made only by a concern which knows well and appreciates that there is nothing exclusive in the tire industry except high standards.

Since 1845 the House of Brunswick has held first place in every line it entered. Brunswick Tires, as more and more motorists come to know them, will certainly be awarded that coveted place held only by the superlative.

Motorists who buy one Brunswick usually adopt it for complete equipment. Yet this is not strange, since the first one so completely proves its superiority.

If the name of Brunswick certifies to you, as to most men, an extraordinary tire, at no higher price, would it not be good business to test one or two Brunswick Tires?
